Art Expressions by Carolyn Carolyn Molder, Artist

Drawing has always been a part of Carolyn's life, but she began later in life than some. Her enthusiasm more than compensates for the lost time. Her Art expresses the world around her. The painting of rural landscapes and barns is her way of preserving the scenes for future generations. Carolyn notes that, "Showing my golden retrievers in AKC Dog Shows taught me a great deal about canine anatomy." Her goal is to paint animals more expressively.

Her art has been accepted in numerous juried shows and festivals around the country with placings in those shows. She is a Signature member of The Georgia Watercolor Society, Tallahassee Watercolor Society, She has taught pastel and watercolor at her studio, Blue Ridge Mountain Arts Association as well as JC Campbell Folk School. This beautiful puppy was selected for her beautiful expression of curiosity.
